Les Basiques
A range of matching long necklaces

pascale lion

paris

Pascale Lion's jewelry is inspired by chain mail, a metallic textile diverted from its protective uses. Singular and sensual, it links past and present, transparency and opacity, strength and softness.

The designer chose materials for their essential qualities: structures, textures, shapes and colors. For the past 25 years, through her jewelry, objects and installations, she combines a plastic and technical approach to serve her permanent search for material as an object.

Pascale Lion's creations are made in France, with sustainable, recyclable and high quality materials.

Material and finishes

Chainmails are made of stainless steel, bronze or titanium. The nomenclature we have developed is detailed here.

AR — silver - polished stainless steel. Matifies slightly over time.

LIGHT — dark blond with possible greying - polished and heated stainless steel.

NU — shades of brown to blond - polished and heated stainless steel. Each piece is unique, limited series.

CU — light brown to coppery brown, sometimes almost black - polished and heated stainless steel.

BR — slightly pinkish brown - sandblasted raw bronze. Finish: matt jeweller's varnish*.

DO — golden - bronze gilded with fine gold*.

BLEU — variations from bright blue to blue-grey or violet - titanium.

Clasps and primers are in bronze or brass. They are gilded, silvered, coppered or varnished depending on the piece.

Each series is unique, each piece is specific. Variations in color from one production run to the next and irregularities even within the same piece are inherent in the artisanal production process. Each ring that makes up our pieces has its own tolerance (+-3%), which can lead to variations in dimensions for a given model. Our measurements are indicative only.

Each mesh and each metal has its own specific qualities, which is why not all models are available in all finishes.

Made in France, with the greatest care.

* These jewellery treatments can evolve when in contact with cosmetics or corrosive products, or with some people's skin.

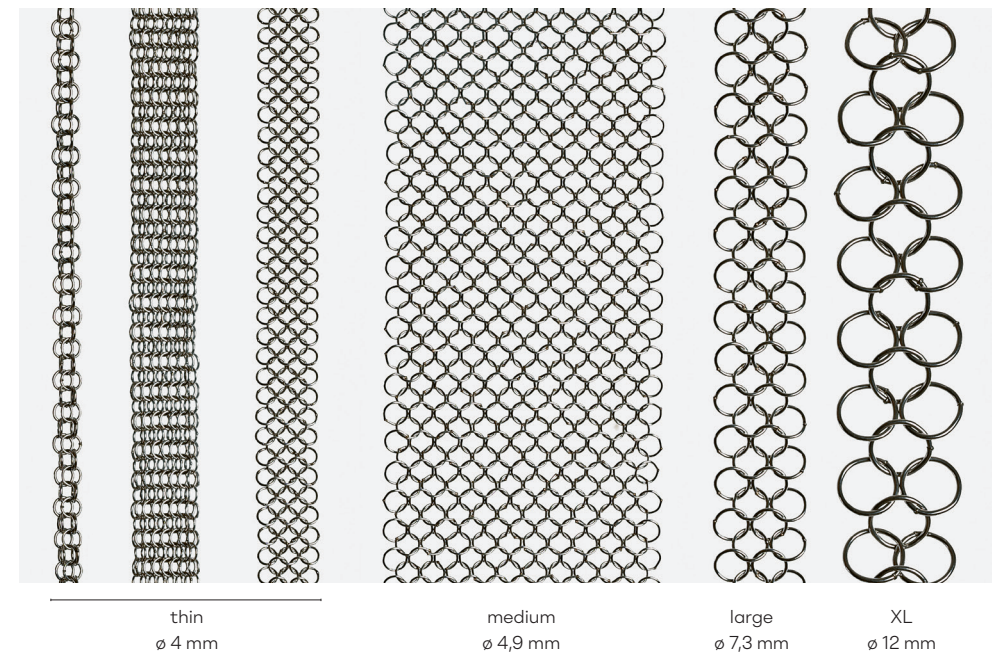

Our 7 finishes

Our chainmails

Chainmail is made up of rings intertwined and welded. They are made of stainless steel, titanium or bronze. The size of the rings determines the texture: fine mesh, medium mesh, large mesh, or XL mesh. The wire thickness is specific for each mesh.

Please refer to our Les Basiques catalogue for full information on cuffs.

Cuff practice sheet

Measure

To determine your size*, measure your hand at its widest part (thumb inwards), Then refer to the table for the corresponding measurements.

Size	cm
0	20
1	21
2	22
3	23
4	24,5
5	26,5

*Our sizes are indicative, with a tolerance of ± 5 mm. They may vary from one series to another.

Place

Continue to slide the cuff along your hand until it fits naturally on your wrist.

Chainmail is a strong material, which you can apply reasonable pressure on if necessary.

Putting on

To put on your cuff, slide it along your fingers and over your hand, making sure that the chain mail does not fold up.

We recommend wearing the smallest size you can put on. A cuff that is too large will tend to run lower on your hand.

Removing

To remove your cuff, slide it along your hand and follow the movement.

To ease the process, make sure that the chain mail does not fold up.

Shipping costs are clearly stated on our proforma invoices and include insurance. The customer has the possibility to use his own carrier, at his own expenses and risks.

Dimensional variations are common, due to the tolerance of the materials and the handcrafted manufacturing process.

Contact with cosmetics or cleaning products should be avoided. Store the jewelry separately in the packaging provided.

Do not wear them if you might hook them to something (during sports or while using a machine. Do not let children play with them".

Placing an order implies acceptance of these terms and conditions.
